

MAY 6, 2009 EMTs RALLY TO SAVE THE TRAINING FUND

Volunteer EMT's from across New Jersey rallied in Morristown on May 6, 2009, to urge the Corzine administration to restore the money it purged from the EMT Training Fund. The Training Fund pays for initial and ongoing training for volunteer EMT's who provide EMS coverage for many towns in New Jersey including Fanwood and Scotch Plains. Without it, volunteers or their squads will have to pay for training, something we had always counted on the state for. The Morristown squad and its Captain, Dominick Sandelli, deserve a lot of credit for staging the event. Fanwood squad members Jeff Carr and Robert Levine attended.

Top: Group photo showing the 60 ambulances and more than 100 EMT's from across NJ who came to Morristown to rally. Above: Fanwood EMT Jeff Carr, right, at the staging area. Right: The motorcade of ambulances circling the Green in downtown Morristown.